Chat & Raising Your Hand

Besides video and voice, there are two other ways you can communicate in Adobe Connect.

If your instructor has the Chat pod open, you will be able to chat with both the instructor and other students. The chat window functions much in the same way as chat rooms or instant messaging clients.

To chat, simply type your text in the text box, then either push enter on your keyboard or click the “Send” button.

Using the menu button in the upper right corner, you can start a chat with specific individuals.
These chats will be displayed on their own separate tabs along the bottom of the Chat pod. To switch between them, simply click on these tabs.

You also can communicate using the “Raise Your Hand” feature.

When the “Raise Your Hand” button is selected, your instructor will receive a notification that you have raised your hand. Also, if your instructor has the Attendee List displayed, an icon indicating that you have raised your hand will appear next to your name.
Clicking the “Raise Hand” button again will lower your hand and clear your status.

There are additional statues available as well. By clicking the dropdown arrow to the right of the “Raise Hand” button, you will see a list of other options.

Choosing any of these will also send notifications of that status and display it next to your name in the Attendee list.
To clear these statuses, either click the “Raise Hand” button again, or choose “Clear Status” from the dropdown list.
